Subject: OPA Morning Clips - 8/1/13

Hi – FYI. Thanks – HLT

St. Louis American - EPA announces agreement to detoxify dormant site next to Boys & Girls Club - 8/1/13 - By the end of the summer, the long-awaited $40 million environmental cleanup of the former Carter Carburetor building in North St. Louis will be underway, officials announced Monday at the Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater St. Louis, 2901 North Grand Ave., which is adjacent to the building.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch - Residents near contaminated site have paid with their health - 8/1/13 - I attended the announcement ceremony at the Carter Carburetor site on Monday ("Carter Carburetor saga has winners and losers," July 29). I was thrilled at the announcement that something was finally being done to remove and clean up this area. But I disagreed with the statement made that the taxpayer would not have to pay for this cleanup.
